CLASSIC FAMILIES, TIMELESS ADVENTURES!

As Thanksgiving approaches, we're reminded of the importance of family, home, and the moments that bring generations together. In that spirit, this month's newsletter highlights two beloved classics, Miracles on Maple Hill and The Moffats. Though set in different times and places, both stories celebrate the love, resilience, and sense of belonging that families provide. Whether gathered around the dinner table or listening together on a cozy autumn evening, these timeless tales capture the warmth and gratitude at the heart of the season.

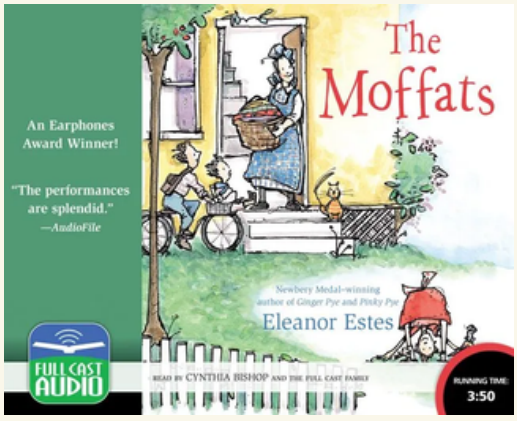

This Thanksgiving season, we're revisiting a beloved story of resilience, connection, and new beginnings. In Miracles on Maple Hill, Marly and her loved ones leave the city for a peaceful Pennsylvania farm, where the traditions of maple sugaring and the kindness of neighbors help them rebuild their lives. Filled with hope, heartfelt moments, and the beauty of the changing seasons, this timeless tale reminds us that life's most meaningful blessings are often found in the people and traditions that bring us together.

Looking for a family you'll wish lived next door? Meet the Moffats! Eleanor Estes's beloved classic follows the adventures, mishaps, and everyday triumphs of four lively siblings growing up in a small town. Filled with humor, heart, and plenty of memorable moments, The Moffats captures the joy of family life and the simple pleasures that make childhood unforgettable. Perfect for listening together as the holiday season begins.
